ALL-SPORTS AWARDS

The Mary McLeod Bethune Award, named after the founder of Bethune-Cookman College, awards the top overall women's athletic program during the course of one full academic year. The first Mary McLeod Bethune award was given in 1987 to Delaware State University. Former member Hampton leads all MEAC schools with 14 women's awards. The men's All-Sports Award is named after the late Talmadge Layman Hill, a former player and coach at Morgan State, and former Chairman of the MEAC Steering and Planning Committee, as well as the conference's first President. Howard University was the recipient of the first Talmadge Layman Hill Award in 1972. Norfolk State holds the men's record with 12 awards.

2008

Maryland Eastern Shore defeated Arkansas State 4-2 to win the NCAA Women's Bowling National Championship, a first for the MEAC (which was the first conference to secure NCAA sanctioning for the sport). With that victory, UMES head coach Sharon Brummell became the first female head coach to win an NCAA bowling championship. Both Brummell and bowler Jessica Worsley -- the NCAA Outstanding Performer -- have since been inducted into the MEAC Hall of Fame (Brummell in 2013, Worsley in 2019).

MEAC Hall of Famer Sharon Brummell led Maryland Eastern Shore to its first national championship -- and the MEAC's first -- in women's bowling in 2008.

2011

Maryland Eastern Shore captured a second NCAA bowling title in 2011, while also winning the United States Bowling Congress (USBC) Intercollegiate Team Championship to become the first program to win two national championships in the same season.

2012

Maryland Eastern Shore defended its NCAA title in 2012, becoming the first program to make four appearances in the championship finale' and just the second team in NCAA bowling history to win three titles.

2013

Maryland Eastern Shore won its second USBC Intercollegiate Team Championship with a 2-0 win over Pikeville 2-0 (209-180 and 173-171) to give the Hawks their fifth overall national championship in women's bowling (three NCAA, two USBC).

2015

North Carolina A&T State won its first national championship in women's bowling, taking the USBC Intercollegiate Team Championship with a 3-1 win over defending champion Robert Morris (Illinois) 2-1.

2021

Delaware State's Katie Robb made her way through the United States Bowling Congress (USBC) Intercollegiate Singles Championship field, eventually defeating Ana Olaya of North Carolina A&T State in the championship match 186-166 to give the Hornets their first national title in women's bowling.

Katie Robb of Delaware State won the USBC singles national championship in 2021, representing Delaware State, defeating North Carolina A&T State's Ana Olaya.
